Business Warrior is breaking ground in the lending industry by introducing a new SaaS price of $1,000 for its turnkey lending software.

Phoenix, AZ - December 8, 2022 - Business Warrior Corp. (OTCQB: BZWR), a global leader in lending and marketing software empowering business growth, announced a new $1,000 SaaS price point for their cloud-based end-to-end lending platform, PayPlan.

Business Warrior is breaking ground in the lending industry by introducing a new SaaS price of $1,000 for its turnkey lending software. Until now, this price point was unheard of in the lending industry due to archaic processes and the needs of lenders

PayPlan is poised to change the lending landscape completely. The combination of robust features, turnkey go-to-market process, and results-driven approach makes it an ideal choice for new lending offerings. The $1,000 price point further solidifies the platform as an obvious choice for creating success in lending. Historically, if a business wanted to build their own lending solution, it would piece together pieces of technology from different companies. Business Warrior aims to change that forever.

The key driver in creating this entry-level price point for PayPlan was Business Warrior's history of becoming a lender. "Our initial struggles led us to understand the software stack, data processes deeply, and the notion that to create success in lending, you need a fully-connected software stack," says Mr. Keehn. "From applications to servicing, it's essential to have complete visibility and transparency of the entire
