New venture capital fund Symbol has announced the closure of its $50 million debut fund for first-check, $0.5-$3.5 million investments. Symbol focuses on 'pre consensus' entrepreneurs and startups - meaning entrepreneurs with an unconventional track record or startups operating in fields considered to be hard for VCs to invest in at early stages.

The fund started operating after an initial closing in late 2021 and has since made 10 pre-Seed and Seed investments, including in Sightful, Breeze, Nilus, CardinalOps, Jiga, and Squire. Despite the global financial climate, five companies in the Symbol portfolio have already raised another funding round. Two of the companies are alumni of Y Combinator.
