

PROPUBLICA

IMPACT

MORE IMPACT

The Trump Administration Used Its Food Aid Program for Political Gain, Congressional Investigators Find

The Food to Families program, touted by Ivanka Trump, gave tens of millions of dollars to unqualified firms and was also used to promote then-President Trump.

by Bianca Fortis, October 19, 2021, 5:00 am EDT

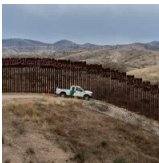

Outrage Grows Over Jailing of Children as Tennessee University Cuts Ties With Judge Involved

In the days following a ProPublica and Nashville Public Radio report on juvenile justice in Rutherford County, the president of Middle Tennessee State University told staff Judge Donna Scott Davenport “is no longer affiliated with the University.”

by Meribah Knight, WPLN/Nashville Public Radio, and Ken Armstrong, ProPublica
October 13, 2021, 4:50 pm EDT

A Secretive Counterterrorism Team Interrogated Dozens of Citizens at the Border, Government Report Finds

A report by a federal watchdog shows how the Trump administration flagged at least 51 citizens for interrogation at the border based on evidence as flimsy as once having ridden in a car with someone suspected of aiding the migrant “caravan.”

by Dara Lind, October 11, 2021, 5:00 am EDT

Independent Journalism You Can Trust

No corporate owners, no paywall, no bullsh*t — just deeply researched reporting in a free newsletter more than 600,000 subscribers rely on.

Get the Newsletter

Bay City News Foundation report on $200 million in missing funds.

by Scott Morris, Bay City News Foundation
September 30, 2021, 1:00 pm EDT

January 6 Select Committee Subpoenas Trump Chief of Staff Mark Meadows and Other Top Aides

Citing a June ProPublica report, the committee says there is “credible evidence” of Meadows’ involvement in events leading up to the attack on the Capitol.

by Joshua Kaplan and Joaquin Sapien,
September 24, 2021, 10:45 am EDT

House Bill Would Blow Up the Massive IRAs of the Superwealthy

The proposed reform stems from a ProPublica story that detailed how PayPal founder Peter Thiel had amassed $5 billion, tax-free, in a Roth IRA. If the bill passes, Roth accounts would be capped at $20 million for high-income individuals.

by Justin Elliott, Patricia Callahan and the DOJ has not stepped in to help. Following our investigation, the ACLU renews the call to action and has asked the DOJ to launch an investigation.

by Richard A. Webster, WRKF and WWNO,
September 28, 2021, 6:00 pm EDT

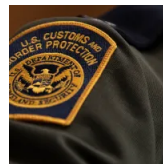

Chicago Mayor Lori Lightfoot Proposes Further Traffic Ticket Reforms to Help Low-Income Motorists

In 2018, ProPublica reported on how vehicle tickets in Chicago disproportionately harm low-income, Black residents. This latest set of reforms proposes lowering ticket costs and providing debt relief for low-income residents.

by Melissa Sanchez, September 22, 2021,
5:10 pm EDT

New Report Shows “Deeply Troubling Failures” by Border Patrol in Boy’s Death, Key Congressional Leader Says

The DHS inspector general has confirmed the findings of a ProPublica investigation into the death of a 16-year-old Guatemalan who died in a Border Patrol cell in Texas.

found wealthy civilians with no U.S. government or military experience pursued a plan to monetize veterans’ medical data.

by Isaac Arnsdorf, September 27, 2021, 1:45 pm EDT

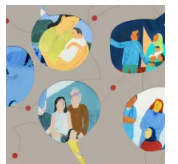

Facebook Grew Marketplace to 1 Billion Users. Now Scammers Are Using It to Target People Around the World.

ProPublica identified thousands of Marketplace listings and profiles that broke the company’s rules, revealing how Facebook failed to safeguard users.

by Craig Silverman, A.C. Thompson and Peter Elkind
September 22, 2021, 5:00 am EDT

After 33 Years, Parents of Brain-Damaged Kids Get to Express Disgust With Florida Program

Our reporting prompted changes in state law, and on Wednesday, the program’s executive director resigned. Parents had harsh words about the way they and their children have been treated.

Independent Journalism You Can Trust

No corporate owners, no paywall, no bullsh*t — just deeply researched reporting in a free newsletter more than 600,000 subscribers rely on.

The head of NICA, or the Birth-Related Neurological Injury Compensation Association, resigned following a report from ProPublica and the Miami Herald detailing families' struggles as they sought — and were often denied — support they'd been promised.

by Carol Marbin Miller and Daniel Chang, ,
Miami Herald
September 16, 2021, 1:45 pm EDT

Lawmakers Question California Cap and Trade Policies, Citing ProPublica Report

California legislators asked the state Air Resources Board to review its forest offsets program after an investigation by ProPublica and MIT Technology Review found that up to 39 million carbon credits aren't achieving real climate benefits.

by Lisa Song, ProPublica, and James Temple, MIT Technology Review
August 20, 2021, 12:00 pm EDT

Inspector General Urges Ethics Review at Federal Election Commission Following ProPublica Report

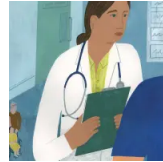

The FEC's inspector general has called for the agency to review its

At ProPublica, we measure our success by the tangible impact our stories have. Sometimes it takes more than a decade to see a flawed policy change.

by Stephen Engelberg, September 8, 2021, 9:00 am EDT

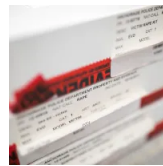

Audit Confirms That a Program for Brain-Damaged Kids Arbitrarily Denied Claims and Overspent on Perks

A new report validates many of the findings of an investigation published by the Miami Herald and ProPublica about Florida's Birth-Related Neurological Injury Compensation Association, or NICA.

by Carol Marbin Miller and Daniel Chang, ,
Miami Herald
August 18, 2021, 5:30 pm EDT

Alaskan Law Requires DNA From Accused Criminals, but Officials Failed to Collect Samples From 21,000 People

Alaska authorities neglected to

A troubled Education Department program left many disabled borrowers unable to escape crushing debt. A decade after ProPublica exposed the issue, the US has taken a major step to address the program's defects.

by Sasha Chavkin, September 1, 2021, 5:00 am EDT

We Reported on Pollution From Sugar Cane Burning. Now Federal Lawmakers Want the EPA to Take Action.

Leading members of Congress have called for the EPA to investigate air monitoring in Florida and to change national pollution standards.

by Lulu Ramadan, The Palm Beach Post, ,
and Maya Miller, ProPublica
August 13, 2021, 5:00 am EDT

Independent Journalism You Can Trust

No corporate owners, no paywall, no bullsh*t — just deeply researched reporting in a free newsletter more than 600,000 subscribers rely on.

LATEST STORIES FROM PROPUBLICA

Arizona facilitó la aprobación del examen de fluidez en inglés; expertos dicen que perjudicará el éxito estudiantil.

Oregon Lawmakers Seek to Open Up Affordable Housing Records Following ProPublica's Reporting

Independent Journalism
You Can Trust

No corporate owners, no paywall, no bullsh*t — just deeply researched reporting in a free newsletter more than 600,000 subscribers rely on.

Your email address

Get our weekly newsletter

INFO

COVERAGE

LOCAL

CONTACT

SUPPORT US

INFO

About

Impact

Leadership

Staff

Partners

Awards

Events

Jobs

Fellowships

COVERAGE

Abortion

Civil Rights

Courts

Criminal Justice

Debt

See All

LOCAL

Midwest

Northwest

South

Southwest

Texas

Local Reporting

Network

CONTACT

General

Inquiries

Send Us a Tip

Corrections

Freelance

Pitches

Media Inquiries

SUPPORT US

Donate

More Ways To Give

Independent Journalism You Can Trust

No corporate owners, no paywall, no bullsh*t —
just deeply researched reporting in a free newsletter more than 600,000 subscribers rely
on.

Code of Ethics

Republishing

Privacy Policy

Advertising Policy

Gift Acceptance

Independent Journalism You Can Trust

No corporate owners, no paywall, no bullsh*t —
just deeply researched reporting in a free
newsletter more than 600,000 subscribers rely
on.